

PROJECT IDEA

OUR MULTICULTURAL BOOK OF FRIENDS

Summary

In this project-based learning unit, students will embark on a journey to explore the significance of human diversity by creating a multicultural book of friends. Through collaboration, research, creativity, and cultural exchange, students will gain a deeper understanding of different cultures and celebrate the similarities and differences that make each individual unique. The culminating project will be the creation of a book (printed or digital) that educates readers on the importance of embracing diversity.

Driving Question

How can we create a multicultural book of friends to educate readers on the significance of human diversity?

Audience

Other students, parents

Goals

- Understand the concept of diversity and its significance in society.
- Appreciate and respect cultural differences.
- Develop research skills through exploration of different cultures.
- Enhance collaboration and communication skills through interactions with students from other parts of the world.
- Develop creativity and presentation skills through the creation of a multicultural flip book.

Language Content

- Present Simple
- Vocabulary: countries, nationalities, traditions, adjectives that describe physical appearance.

Other Subjects

Social Studies

GUIDE FOR STUDENTS

OUR MULTICULTURAL BOOK OF FRIENDS

Engage!

Read the story: “Same, same but different”. What do Elliot and Kailash have in common? How are they different? Design a brand new cover for the book, showing what you've learned from Elliot and Kailash's friendship. Get those crayons and markers ready!

HOW CAN WE CREATE A MULTICULTURAL BOOK OF FRIENDS TO EDUCATE READERS ON THE SIGNIFICANCE OF HUMAN DIVERSITY?

1. 🌟 Cultural Exchange: Let's make friends from around the world! We'll connect with students from other places using cool digital tools. We'll ask questions, share about our lives, and learn about their culture! Click the LINK to start the journey!
2. 🌍 Research and Discovery: Get ready to be explorers! We'll dig deep into our friends' cultures. Where do they live exactly? Let's find their city or town on Google Earth! What do they look like? What language do they speak? Do they have big or small families? What yummy food do they eat? Let's find out!
3. 📖 Book Creation: Time to let our creativity shine! We'll use all the cool info we've gathered to make a special multicultural book. We'll add drawings or photos of our friends and tell everyone about their culture. We'll also show how we're similar and different.
4. 🎉 Culminating Presentation: The big moment is here! We'll have a multicultural book fair or exhibition where we can show off our amazing books to our friends, family, and community members. We'll share what we've learned about diversity and why it's super important to embrace different cultures.